Dr. Diora Ziyaeva is a Partner in the Firm's Commercial Litigation group and US Region Co-Lead in Mining and Natural Resources. Her main areas of practice include investment treaty arbitration, international commercial arbitration, complex commercial litigation and public international law.

Licensed in New York and Uzbekistan and fluent in seven languages, Diora is recognized within the legal community as one of the top international lawyers of her generation. She sits as arbitrator and serves as counsel in a broad range of international matters and is a Member of the ICC International Court of Arbitration.

Over the course of her career, Diora has represented States, corporations, and individuals in disputes under the rules of all the major arbitral institutions, as well as several regional institutions. Diora advises parties in international litigations involving proceedings in foreign and domestic courts, including the United States Supreme Court. She also advises governments, investment firms and asset managers about mitigating risks, evaluating investments in international claims and arbitration awards.

In addition to her extensive disputes work, Diora maintains an active pro bono practice, representing refugee and immigrant children who were separated from a parent at the U.S.-Mexico border, spearheads strategy for ESG traceability and transparency in the cotton industry in Uzbekistan, provided advice regarding transitional justice efforts in Libya, the prosecution of human-rights abuses in Iraq, and investigations into atrocities committed against the Rohingya in Myanmar.

Diora draws praise in the leading industry publications as “one of the most impressive lawyers of her generation,” “a brilliant legal and strategic mind,” “supremely talented,” and “an excellent cross-examiner.” Clients and peers note that she is “a very strong strategist and is highly competent at articulating persuasive arguments,” “a zealous advocate,” and “dedicated and clear.” She “has exceptional oral advocacy skills and is very convincing,” “brings a world-class degree of academic rigor to legal argument,” “has exceptional persuasion skills in several languages,” and “her mastery of common and civil law equips her to give the best strategic advice.” According to one client, “Diora can always be relied upon and really knows international law inside and out.” Another declares that “she has all the arbitration skills a client could wish for.”

Diora has been named a Global Elite Thought Leader in 2024 by Lexology Index and has been recognized as a “Future Leader” by Who’s Who Legal: Arbitration (2021-2024). In 2024, she was named a “Rising Star” by New York Law Journal, an award which recognizes lawyers who have “made a remarkable difference in the legal profession” and honors attorneys for their achievements as emerging leaders in the New York legal community. In 2023 she was also recognized by Law360 as one of the international arbitration law practitioners “Rising Stars” under age 40, drawn from a candidate pool of more than 1,300 submissions spanning 38 practices worldwide. Diora is also ranked in The Legal 500 US. In 2018, she was honored as one of the American Bar Association’s On the Rise – Top 40

Young Lawyers, which is awarded to those nominees “who exemplify a broad range of high achievement, innovation, vision, leadership, and service to the profession and their communities.” Diora's impressive credentials are complemented by her roles on various prestigious committees, including as a delegate to the ICC Commission on Arbitration and ADR; co-chair for International Law committee of the International Law Association where she also sits on the Board of Directors; a member of the Council on Foreign Relations; and a member of the International Arbitration Club of New York.

Diora is a Certified Mediator by the Centre for Effective Dispute Resolution, and is admitted, inter alia, with Arbitral Panels for institutions all over the world including Energy Disputes Arbitration Centre (EDAC); China International Economic and Trade Arbitration Commission (CIETAC); Tashkent International Arbitration Centre (TIAC); Shenzhen Court of International Arbitration (SCIA); South China International Arbitration Center, Hong Kong, (SCIAHK); and Abu Dhabi International Arbitration Centre (ADIAC).

An accomplished educator, Diora teaches the Practice of International Arbitration at Cornell Law School, and investment treaty arbitration at Fordham University School of Law. She is the first female from the Republic of Uzbekistan to graduate from Harvard Law School and graduated first in her class at Uzbekistan's University of World Economy and Diplomacy. She also speaks and writes regularly on arbitration-related issues.
